Anderson Bosa

Software Developer – Java | Go | Python | JS | Ruby
Florianópolis, Santa Catarina, Brazil

Summary

Passionate about technology and hacking, software engineer since 2019, I build secure digital experiences.

My journey began as a full-stack developer. Now, with expertise in several areas of SLDC, such as frontend, backend, systems administration, and security, I am committed to continuously applying all my knowledge to solve real-world problems. I'm glad to help teams build high-level software that delivers more than functional requirements and offers a complete digital experience.

I'm always open to connecting with people who share similar interests or exploring collaboration opportunities in the field of web development and security.
